

BIONEERS at FINDHORN

Revolution from the Heart of Nature

30 October - 2 November 2010

Inspiring speakers. In-depth workshops. Excellent networking opportunities.
Cultural events in the Findhorn community.

“No conference on Earth celebrates more fully the possibilities of creating a world that is conducive to life; Bioneers is central to the re-imagining of what it means to be human.”

Paul Hawken, author of Blessed Unrest

Creating an equitable, compassionate and democratic society requires all of us to integrate diverse aspects of sustainability: transition towns, biomimicry, earth jurisprudence, resilience building, bioregionalism, water stewardship, organic farming, ecological architecture, zero carbon transport, renewable energy, eco-literacy education, eco-entrepreneurship, permaculture, and environmental restoration. It also calls us to include indigenous wisdom, natural design, social justice, the media, holistic medicine, engaged spirituality, youth work and many other fields.
